Father DARKLEAF'S Column

Wherein the Editor Gets in a Personal Touch

* * *

Well, folks, I'm still in the paper, me and my colyum. For awhile this week it looked like Father Darkleaf would have to take a back seat and let such unknowns as Will Rogers and Arthur Brisbane have the front page spot.

* * *

But, what's the use of owning a paper if you can't write a front page colyum? We ask you.

* * *

Well, I spent so much time this week pouring over "Robber's Roost" News Reviews, etc. and dressing up the new front page (I did it with my little hatchet) that I missed the American Legion convention in Lynchburg and the beauty show.

* * *

But W. E. Dickerson's daughter, who went as "Miss Appomattox" was there with bells on and won a lot of praise, even if she didn't win the trip to Miami.

* * *

Here and now, we want to doff our hat to our correspondents for finishing us on time a record volume of county news. Brother, if your name's not in the paper this week, it ain't our fault.

* * *

And since that last mouse got after Mrs. Bright(leader, we're making up a record flock of locals, about 100 per week— she counts them on us.

* * *

Two new subscribers and five renewals this week. But when you see this bigger paper, it should be booming in the circulation dept.(That's Mother Brightleaf, too,)

* * *

Our Vera correspondent writes knowingly of wedding bells. Is it you, parson?

* * *

We Richmond College alumni are pretty chesty about having a new coach, and brag a lot about what we're going to do—until some wise guy asks us to pronounce Thistlethwaite.

DISTRIBUTION OF BIBLES BEGUN BY GIDEONS IN 1899

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Just as the "Gay Nineties" were closing, a small group of "drummers," as they called traveling men in those days, gathered at the Superior hotel, Iron Mountain, Mich., to dedicate 225 Bibles and place them in the rooms.

That was the start of the work of the Gideons—the Christian Commercial Men's association—who have placed more than 1,250,000 Bibles in hotels and hospitals and jails and other institutions in the intervening years.

The idea started in September, 1897, when John H. Nicholson, of Janesville, Wis., arrived at the little town of Boscorel, Wis., late in the evening and found the hotel crowded.

With bright tobacco markets in Virginia opening September 25, and dark markets slated to open before Thanksgiving, the outlook is now a matter of great interest and local farmers are anxious to know what they might expected as to prices.

The meeting the 14th will also mark the beginning of a new campaign for members in the association.
